PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING SERVICE REPORT

January 1985

Public Health Nursing Service has continued to serve the Town of Stark since March 1977. The visiting nurse is available Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. on a regularly scheduled basis and evenings and weekends when special arrangements are made.

Skilled nursing visits include such activities as dressing changes, injections, colostomy care, blood pressure checks and health teaching.

Home Health Aides perform such functions as assisting with bathing, shampoos or following a treatment plan established by the physical therapist under the supervision of a registered nurse. In our new program, the Homemaker, under the supervision of a registered nurse assists with housekeeping, laundry, shopping and meal preparation. Most recipients are elderly and there are medical reasons for needing such assistance.

Children enrolled in our Well Child Clinics receive physical examinations, immunizations and dental care. Blood pressure clinics are held monthly.

A total of 8079 visits were made during 1984 to the six town area served by our agency.

The continued ability of Public Health Nursing Service to meet the health needs of our communities is dependent on the contributions of time, effort and appropriations to the agency from the communities served.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERTA DAYCOCK, R.N.
Director, Public Health Nursing

REPORT OF THE TOWN FOREST FIRE WARDEN AND STATE FOREST RANGER

Our first forest fire prevention law was enacted by our State Legislature 90 years ago. This early law set in place a cooperative forest fire prevention and suppression effort between city and town governments and State government. It simply stated that no open fire could be kindled, when the ground is free of snow, without the written permission of the town/city Forest Fire Warden. This law also stated that anyone kindling a fire without written permission shall be liable for the damage caused and subject to a $1,000 fine.

During the past 90 years, this law has worked so well that it has remained unchanged. All open fires when the ground is not covered with snow must be authorized by the local Forest Fire Warden. Persons kindling a fire without a permit when one is required are liable for damages caused, fire suppression costs and subject to a $1000 fine.

This cooperative fire prevention law has contributed significantly to our nationally recognized annual forest fire loss record.

NORTH COUNTRY COUNCIL ANNUAL REPORT

Calendar Year 1984 saw the North Country Council, Inc. observe its twelfth year of successful operation for towns in the North Country. The Council, as a regional, non-profit, public planning agency chartered under NH RSA 36:45, is responsible for providing assistance in local community planning, economic development, solid waste, transportation, and municipal services.

In Stark, we are working on a solid waste plan for the Lancaster Area Solid Waste District and have completed the inventory phase and the septage disposal element. We also provided the Planning Board with information on roads.

In economic development, the Council hosted in the spring two region-wide economic development conferences with over 200 business, industry and government leaders attending. From the conferences, regional strategies were developed to address such issues as highway improvements, air service, regional promotion, mechanisms for regional communication, development funding, and regional job expansion. As an outgrowth of these conferences, the Council is presently coordinating the preparation of a North Country Videotape project, which, when complete, will examine the potential for industry to locate in the North Country. The Videotape will be available to Chambers of Commerce, local development corporations, and municipalities in order to promote their communities to businesses looking to expand or relocate in the North Country.

The Council has provided information and guidance to several towns on federal and state grant and loan programs. This past year saw well over $2.0 million in Community Development Block Grant funds come to the region for such activities as housing rehabilitation, water and sewer system improvements, a downtown revitalization study, an industrial park feasibility study, and business revolving loan funds.

Community planning assistance has emphasized master planning and improvement in local land use controls. New state mandates and commercial and residential growth in several towns have created busy work loads for planning boards. The Council's assistance takes many forms: regional workshops, newsletters, regulation review and update, and assistance on a regular or one-time basis for subdivision and site plan applications. Subdivision review workshops were held in Littleton, Campton, and Dalton and we co-sponsored the Municipal Law Lecture Series in Twin Mountain.

Overall, the Council's major objective is to work with North Country towns in solving local and regional problems. We rely on and appreciate the involvement of town officials and residents and look forward to assisting your town this coming year.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

To the inhabitants of the School District of Stark, qualified to vote in district affairs:

You are hereby notified to meet in Stark Town Hall in said district on Tuesday, March 12, 1985, at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon to act upon the subjects hereinafter mentioned. The matters of appropriations and such other business properly coming before said meeting will be taken up for your consideration and action.

1. To hear reports of agents, auditors, committees, of officers heretofore chosen and pass any vote relating thereto.
2. To see if the district will authorize the school board to make application for, to receive and expend in the name of the district such advances, grants-in-aid or other funds for educational purposes as may now or hereafter be forthcoming from the U. S. Government and/or State Agencies.
3. To see if the district will raise and appropriate the sum of $3,522.00 provide a Kindergarten Program to the Kindergarten age residents of the Stark School District.
4. To see if the district will vote to establish a reserve fund for education of the handicapped and to transfer all or any portion of surplus funds as of June 30, 1985, from the current operating budget, into the said reserve and that the school board be authorized as agents to determine when such funds may be expended (pursuant to the provisions of RSA 35:1-b).
5. To see what sum of money the district will vote to raise and appropriate for the support of schools, for the payment of salaries of school district officials and agents and for the payment of the statutory obligations of the district.
6. To transact any other business that may lawfully come before said meeting.

Given under our hands at Stark this 25th day of February, 1985.

Stark School Board
Stark School District
Stark, New Hampshire

January 10, 1985

Dear Board Members:

In connection with our examination of the financial statements for the Stark School District for the year ended June 30, 1984, we reviewed the system of internal control and accounting procedures of the District. Our procedures included discussions with various employees responsible for performing accounting functions. We noted some areas where internal controls and accounting procedures could be revised and supplemented in order to better safeguard the District's resources and for improved operations. We realize that, with limited personnel resources, the most ideal system of internal control or the most desirable accounting system may not be practical; however, it is our opinion that a concerted effort should be made to improve internal control in operating procedures wherever possible. The comments and recommendations we are making attempt to recognize the limitations imposed by the existing number of personnel.

The following area is what we believe to be a material weakness in internal accounting control.

Bank Reconciliations

Currently, the Treasurer performs the bank reconciliations. Under an ideal system of internal controls, the Treasurer would handle the checks, the bookkeeping personnel of the School Administrative Unit would handle the record keeping, and a member of the School Administrative Unit, not involved in bookkeeping, would prepare the bank reconciliations. As a practical alternative, however, any member of the School Administrative Unit reviewing the bank reconciliation on a current basis would improve the system of internal controls. The School Board may wish to ask the School Administrative Unit if they are willing to assume this additional duty.

Objectives of a system of internal controls include providing reasonable assurance as to the reliability of financial records and maintaining accountability for assets. The concept of reasonable assurance recognizes that the cost of a system of internal accounting control should not exceed the benefits derived. This concept also recognizes that the evaluation of cost versus benefits necessarily requires judgements by the members of the School Board.

Very truly yours,

David J. Driscoll & Company

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

The most dangerous question an educator can consider answering is, "What is the most important thing we do for our children in school?" Years ago, as a classroom biology teacher, I got into a heated argument with a chemistry teacher on this subject. Neither of us would yield on our respective positions in support of our disciplines. It wound up with him calling my subject "Bug" and me calling his "Stink". Of course, our disagreement completely left out of consideration the minor value to the curriculum of English, Social Studies, Math, French or any of the other subjects found in public schools.

From that narrow perspective many years ago, I moved to school building administration, and instead of having the luxury of smugly arguing for my own subject area, I found myself an arbiter of similar academic jealousies among my teachers, mediating only to negotiate peace, let alone a balanced curriculum. The view from the central office is again altogether different. Balancing the priorities of the curriculum must take its ordered share of time among the other tasks a superintendent needs to deal with, such as transportation, taxes and budgets, public relations, state and federal paperwork, recruiting, etc. How I would answer that "most important..." question today would be vastly different from my response twenty five years ago.

Therefore, throwing prudence to the winds, I will propose an answer to that question as I see it today. There are four key elements in the equation, no one of which can be labelled more important than another. One characteristic is the willingness or need of the child to learn. Without this motivation, there is little point to our being in business. Another is the nature of the social, political and economic world that child will enter after graduation. Whatever that environment demands will shape future educational priorities. The extent of resources available, and the desire of the public to provide those resources, are powerful determinants of what the schools realistically can accomplish. Finally, the quality of the teacher, who is the crucial nexus of the learning process, must enter the equation. It is not a patronizing attitude then, to state that each of these factors is equally important.

Because of state laws, budgetting procedures, and the tradition of year-to-year planning, we tend to live hand-to-mouth. Seldom do we have a real opportunity to plan far enough in the future to have a profound effect on what that future will be like. More often, the future crashes down on us in education with unrelenting speed, and the best we often do is apologize and play catch-up. Several years ago I had the opportunity to attend a month-long seminar on economics taught out of Princeton University (at the Middlebury College campus). The nation was then still reeling from the effects of the oil embargo and staggering under the spiraling inflation of the Carter years. Yet the corporate and government planners and forecasters at that seminar were even then projecting the economic stability our nation is enjoying today. Most of us in the hand-to-mouth public arena found their projections difficult to believe; we were too involved with the immediate everyday realities of the cost of a hamburger or pair of socks or gallon of gas. But those predictions were right on target.

There is an interesting lesson in this for those of us concerned with education. If we are honestly going to make an effort for today's three-year-old children to be prepared for the year 2000 when they graduate from high school, it is imperative that future planning be done now, and that the execution of those plans take place tomorrow. We can't wait for "next year". We need to psychologically condition our children to respect and desire their education, not just put up with it. We have to arrange our curriculum to fit the social, political and economic trends today's children will have to cope with. We must provide the financial resources to up-grade the school buildings, or build new ones if need be, and to equip the schools with efficient, contemporary instructional facilities and materials. This includes such basics as comfortable furniture, proper lighting, and visible chalkboards, as well as more sophisticated items such as computers, fuel efficient heating plants and modern laboratory equipment. And finally, that vital link in the educational process, the teacher, must be well-trained and better paid. None of these can be dealt with in isolation. None can be ignored without incurring grave risks for our children.

Education has been the public whipping boy for our social ills in the past several years. Numerous reports decry the deficiencies, point out the weaknesses, cast blame, issue condemnations, and pronounce judgment. Education is often hard put to defend itself against this media onslaught. It is shameful that a number of young people leave school and can hardly write a literate sentence. But literacy is at an all time high in our nation, and a greater percentage of our high school age children are in school today than ever before. It is true that teachers are poorly paid, respective of their training and the responsibility of the job. But where is society's priority when billions of dollars are spent on advertising selling beer or deodorants? A one-minute commercial during the Super Bowl earns a TV network enough money to educate 555 high school students for a year. It costs as much to keep a prisoner incarcerated in prison as it does to educate eleven children. Clearly, the priorities are in desperate need of revision. As much as we need educational reform, we need to rethink the way we look at education. We need an honest, unbiased perspective of our purpose in preserving the future through our children, not sensationalism or doomsaying.

Without a vision that sees beyond one tax year to another; without a demand from society that education be as strong and vital as it can be; without a commitment to risk that additional financial increment (it's called venture capital in the business world) in support of quality; we are merely solidifying our status quo. I urge the community to look to its children's future, to have the courage to dream for the possible, and to be proud of its potential.

Respectfully submitted,

Charles J. Micciche

STARK VILLAGE SCHOOL REPORT

Stark Village School continues to thrive through the 1984-85 year. We are striving to maintain academic excellence along with preserving the heritage and tradition of our school.

The school has seen a few changes during the course of the year. Mid-November brought in Janet Woodward, our new teacher's aide. With the resignation of Libby Wehrle, Gail Hiltz assumed the duties of Head Teacher. Ann Fogg continues as teacher of Grades 1 - 3 and Jeannine Astle as Title I aide. Mr. Philip Stearns, our custodian for many years, also left us, and we have a new custodian, Mrs. Claudia Daniels.

In addition to the regular curriculum, we have been treated to a few special events. KitchenSink Mime Theater, from Portsmouth, was with us for the week of January 25. They worked at great length with the children, who enjoyed them immensely. Culmination of their efforts was a performance by the children for their peers.

Grades 4, 5 and 6 participated in a Spelling Bee, which is sponsored by the Union Leader. The champion is Ty Randall, and he will represent Stark School at the County Bee in Berlin.

A trip to see the production of Winnie-The-Pooh took place in February. Other trips are in the works for the spring.

Art and Music have been a welcome addition to the school, giving an added dimension to the present curriculum. We have received our Apple Computer and software, and are quite anxious to implement it. The upper-grade classroom received new desks during January.

We are reaching new dimensions as a two-room schoolhouse. We are working and growing together, reaching to fulfill goals and make new ones. It is a struggle to be the best, but we are worth the effort.

Respectfully submitted,

Gail Hiltz
Head Teacher

RIGHTS OF PARENTS OR GUARDIANS

As the parent or guardian of a child who may require or who is receiving special education and/or related services, you have the following rights:

- *You have a right to have access to and examine all records relating to your child's education.
- *You have a right to receive prior written notice whenever the local educational agency proposes to begin or change the special education referral, evaluation and/or educational placement of your child. You also have a right to give your written consent before initial special education placement and before any individual evaluation of your child.
- *You have a right to question any matter, decision or recommendation relating to your child's referral, evaluation or educational placement.
- *You have a right to request an independent educational evaluation of your child if you disagree with the evaluation obtained by the local educational agency. If your request is accepted, the evaluation will be conducted by a certified or licensed professional examiner who is independent of the local educational agency and will be performed at no cost to you. Should your request be denied, you have a right to appeal this decision as described below.
- *If you have any complaints regarding the referral, evaluation or educational placement of your child, you have a right to meet with the school board. If an agreement is unable to be reached, you have the right to an impartial hearing conducted by a state appointed due process hearing officer.
- *At this hearing you have the right to be assisted by person(s) with special knowledge or training, or by an attorney, and the right to present evidence and confront, cross-examine and compel the attendance of witnesses.

*After this hearing, you have the right to a written or electronic verbatim recording of such hearing. You have the right to obtain written findings of fact and decisions of the hearing at no cost.

*If the decision of the impartial hearing at the local level is not acceptable to you, you have the right to appeal this decision to the State Board of Education or Civil Court.

*During any of the hearing or appeal procedures your child shall remain in the current educational program or, if applying for initial admission to the public school, shall be placed in a regular program until all proceedings have been completed, unless you and the school officials agree otherwise.

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 Public Law 92-318

Subpart A, Section 86.8 of Title IX requires public notification that the Northumberland School District does not discriminate in their educational programs, activities, or employment practices on the basis of race, language, sex, age, or handicapping condition under the provisions of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972; Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973; and the Education of All Handicapped Children Act of 1975. The Northumberland School District hereby notifies students, parents, employees, and residents that complaints and grievances for noncompliance with any of the provisions of Title IX are to be referred to:
